BH PROTÉGÉ – NEW!

At Banzerini House, a Protégé is a student who's passionate about theatre but may not be ready to step into the spotlight just yet. Whether they're a little shy, curious about how productions come together, or simply interested in learning the behind-the-scenes magic, the Protégé Program is their perfect entry point.

Protégés are vital members of our creative family. While they may not always perform on stage, they're deeply involved in bringing a show to life. From helping build sets and learning how backstage tech works to assisting with props and costumes and occasionally jumping into ensemble roles or one-off characters, protégés get hands-on experience that builds skills, confidence, and connection.

THIS PROGRAM IS IDEAL FOR STUDENTS WHO:

- Are curious about theatre but nervous to audition
- Prefer behind-the-scenes roles like tech, set design, or costume work
- Want to explore different aspects of production.
- Are creative, reliable, and excited to learn!

Protégés attend weekly rehearsals, assist during shows, and participate in a special weekly training class focused on backstage skills. They're part of the team, learning as they go and discovering their place in the world of theatre, whether it's on stage, backstage, or both.
